To Whom it may concern:

My experience with O'Connor Construction over the last few years has been overall a very positive one. Paul and his crew dealt with a very disorganized and adversarial city government as well as can be expected. He and his company filled a void for us in dealing with sub-contractors, city officials and managing a several large projects. O'Connor constantly had site mangers here and they were very proactive in their communication with us. I would not hesitate to use them again on projects that fit.
